Reds Strike at Titoists

Leaders of Revolt Killed in Hungary

VIENNA (AP) — Communist Hungary has executed two leaders of the Soviet-crushed Hungarian revolt in October and November 1956, former Premier Imre Nagy and Defense Minister Pal Maleter.

The executions of Nagy, Maleter and two lesser figures in the popular uprising against Communist rule plus prison sentences for five others were announced today.

Moscow broke the word first in what looked to Vienna observers like the start of a new Kremlin purge of Titoists in the satellites seeking some independence from Moscow's domination. Foreign diplomats in Belgrade viewed the execution of Nagy as a direct Kremlin slap at the Yugoslav President.

Secret Trial in Budapest

Budapest radio said Nagy and Maleter refused to make full confessions to the people's court bench of the Supreme Court, which tried them secretly in Budapest. The dates of the trial and of the executions were not made public.

All nine were charged with "organization of a plot aimed at overthrowing" the Hungarian government. Nagy also was convicted of "betraying the motherland" and Maleter of "organizing a military uprising."

Budapest radio said Nagy, Maleter and Joszef Szilagyi denied the charges "but later under the weight of incriminating evidence they made partial confessions." Szilagyi and Miklos Gimes were Communist journalists executed with Nagy and Maleter.

The most prominent of the five men sentenced to prison was Zoltan Tildy, Hungary's first postwar president, who was given 5 to 12 years.

Others Imprisoned

Others imprisoned were Col. Sandor Kopacsy, an aide to Maleter in the uprising; Ferenc Donath, a supporter of Nagy during the revolt; Ferenc Janosi, a son-in-law of Nagy; and Miklos Vasarhelyi, a former editor of the Communist party paper Szabad Nep.

Kopacsy was given life imprisonment, the others 5-12 years.

Nagy had been a Hungarian Communist since he was 21. He worked his way up through party ranks with the help of training in the Soviet Union. He was a vice premier under tough, Stalinist Premier Matyas Rakosi.

After Stalin died in 1953 and Georgi Malenkov introduced a new look in Moscow, Rakosi resigned and Nagy was premier for two years. He followed the Malenkov line of trying to make life easier for the masses. But when Nikita Khrushchev dumped Malenkov in 1955, Nagy and his soft line soon were replaced by another tough Hungarian regime.

This tough regime fathered the revolt on Oct. 23, 1956. The people remembered Nagy as a friend and he became premier again.

Denies Improper Favors for Industrialist

Adams Asserts He Might Have Acted More 'Prudently' in Case

Republicans Cautious on Future Role

Adopt Wait-and-See Attitude in Case of Ike's Chief Adviser

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans adopted a wait-and-see attitude today toward the political future of Sherman Adams.

Democrats made it plain they think Adams will have difficulty in explaining away charges against him and believe he soon will be on his way out as chief assistant to President Eisenhower.

Sen. Edward J. Thye (R-Minn), who has spoken critically of Adams' acceptance of favors from Boston industrialist Bernard Goldfine, said he hopes Eisenhower's No. 1 aide bares "every incident and fact of his connection with Goldfine" in testimony before a House subcommittee today.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, assistant Republican leader, said in a separate interview that whether Adams remains in government appears to depend on his testimony.

"I'm sure he will tell the whole story," Dirksen said.

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) said complete frankness about his connections with Goldfine is required from Adams.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) commented that "if all the charges are true, then Mr. Adams has been very indiscreet to say the least and his value to the administration seems to have been destroyed."

Similar views were expressed by two other Ohio Republicans, Representatives William E. Minshall and David A. Baumhart Jr.

Adams has denied he used any influence in behalf of Goldfine in cases pending before government agencies. He so informed the House subcommittee last week in a letter in which he confirmed re-

IKE GIVEN CLOTH, NOT COAT. Presidential Press Secretary James Hagerty shown as he told reporters today that President Eisenhower had received some vicuna cloth in 1956 from Goldfine but declared it was "a lie" that the Chief Executive had received a coat or had ever conferred with the friend of Sherman Adams. (Story on Page 10.)

President's Top Adviser Questioned

Maintains He Never Used Influence To Get Favors for His Friend

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sherman Adams testified today that if he had had more experience he believed he would have acted a little more prudently in making inquiries on behalf of his friend Bernard Goldfine.

President Eisenhower's top aide —sometimes called the assistant president—pleaded too that he was ignorant of the rules and regulations when told that both the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Federal Trade Commission violated them in response to his inquiries about Goldfine's affairs.

Never Sought Favors

Adams swore to a House subcommittee that he never sought any improper favors for Goldfine, a Boston industrialist who made gifts to him and Eisenhower.

He said he makes legions of telephone calls to federal agencies without influencing their conduct.

Adams, 59, has been in government much of his adult life. He had served in the House and been governor of New Hampshire before moving into the administration when Eisenhower took office.

Two years ago, Adams said, he tightened up on the contacts between the presidential staff and executive agencies to avoid implications in case of instances like this.

Committee counsel Robert Lishman told Adams that one of his inquiries in 1954 resulted in Goldfine's obtaining information in violation of law and regulations of the Federal Trade Commission.

Adams said he had no knowledge of this result and no intention of bringing it about.

No Attempt at Influence

Throughout his appearance on the stand, Adams insisted there was never any attempt to bring White House influence to bear on behalf of Goldfine or anyone else and that if any mistakes were made, they were mistakes of judgment or due to inexperience.

Just before he left the stand, Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) asked Adams whether, in view of all that had been brought out, "You think that in these instances you may have overstepped the bounds of propriety?"

Adams replied that in retrospect "I think a greater measure of prudence would have obviated some of the questions before your committee — I cannot wholly disagree with some of the implications in your question."

There were spots of harsh Democratic criticism.

"I went through the campaign of 1952 under the whiplash of a very critical judgment imposed by others on persons in public life,"

(Turn to ADAMS, Page 10)

ADAMS TESTIFIES. Sherman Adams, assistant to the President, is shown as he was sworn in this morning before the House committee investigating regulatory agencies. He told the investigators he was prepared to give them "full and frank" answers to their questions about "the propriety of any actions of mine in relation to Bernard Goldfine." (UPI Telephoto)

Proposal To Go to Members

Power Shovel and Union Sign Interim Agreement

United Steelworkers of America Local 1949 and Marion Power Shovel Co. announced this morning the signing of an interim agreement designed to settle the controversy between them as to whether or not there is in existence a collective bargaining agreement.

The company and union agreed, after 14 hours of consecutive negotiations, that the latest company proposal will be submitted to the local union for acceptance or rejection at a meeting to be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the UAW hall on Leader St. The members will vote by secret ballot.

In the event the proposal is accepted, then the company and the union will sign it and it will be a two-year contract for the period until May 1, 1960. However, in the event the local union rejects the proposal, then the company and union will commence negotiations on a new contract.

The parties have agreed to negotiate on the new contract until Aug. 15, 1958, and during the interim period the presently existing conditions and conditions of employment will be maintained in effect. In the event the negotiations result in a new contract by Aug. 15, all economic benefits negotiated will be retroactive to May 5, 1958. In the event there is no contract by that date, then the union is given the right to strike and the company the right to lockout in support of their respective contentions.

The union negotiating team was headed by John S. Johns, district director, and the company team by Russell Gochnour, staff assistant to David Reich, assistant to the president. Commissioner Edward Phillips of the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service assisted in these negotiations.

3 Ohio House Republicans in Doubt on Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Ohio House Republicans said today Sherman Adams' usefulness as top White House aide is ended if information about his accepting favors is correct.

The statements were made in separate interviews by Reps. William E. Minshall, Clarence J Brown and David A Baumhart Jr.

Minshall said: "If the facts as reported in the public press are not satisfactorily explained, Sherman Adams has betrayed his public trust and should separate himself from the government."

State Officials Study Indiana Flood Damage

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Flood crests were moving toward the southern part of Indiana today.

Officials in Indianapolis met to assess the damage.

Gov. Harold W. Handley said he would await the report before telegraphing Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson asking that hard-hit counties be declared disaster areas so farmers will be eligible for emergency loans.

Federal agriculture officials estimated June floods had cost Indiana farmers from 35 to 40 million dollars.

The Wabash River reached a crest at Terre Haute Monday, but left about 40 per cent of West Terre Haute covered with water. Some 1,50. West Terre Haute residents were forced to flee their homes when an earthen levee broke.

The bulk of the floodwater was moving south and officials said that a levee near Graysville, about 30 miles south of Terre Haute, might be in danger.

Bond Issue Poses Test for De Gaulle

PARIS (AP) — Sales began throughout France today on a new issue of bonds that Premier de Gaulle says represent a test of confidence in his 16-day-old government.

Financial experts predicted a success for the bonds pegged to the Napoleon, a gold coin hoarded by Frenchmen in times of troubles.

Finance Minister Antoine Pinay is trying to lure savings into circulation to provide a sound financial foundation for De Gaulle's proposed constitutional and Algerian reforms.

De Gaulle met today with his Cabinet to consider foreign problems.

The most pressing questions involved the removal of French troops from two former North African protectorates, Tunisia and Morocco.

Plan Separate Trips

PARIS (AP) — Prince Rainier III and Princess Grace made separate plane reservations today to go to the Brussels World's Fair.

Monaco's ruler, with baby Princess Caroline and her nurse, flew to Paris this morning. Princess Grace takes a plane tonight. Rainier doesn't like to have all of his family in one plane.

Requested by NATO

Cyprus Decision Put Off By British Government

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan said today he had decided to postpone a statement on the future of Cyprus for 48 hours at the request of Britain's NATO partners.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization is concerned because two alliance members, Greece and Turkey, are bitterly divided over the question of the British crown colony island.

Macmillan told Commons he decided to defer the policy statement at the request of Paul-Henri Spaak, secretary general of NATO.

New violence and bloodshed were feared on the east Mediterranean island. British troops, reinforced by paratroopers flown out from England, were on the alert to meet new trouble.

The plan was to be announced by Prime Minister Macmillan in London and Gov. Sir Hugh Foot in Nicosia.

It is expected to provide some measure of self-government for the British colony, a cooling-off period that the Greek and Turkish governments would be asked to help sponsor and perhaps a promise of a self-determination plebiscite in the future in which the island's Greek majority presumably would vote for independence as a prelude to joining Greece.

The population of Cyprus includes about 500,000 persons of Greek extracton and 140,000 of Turkish descent. The Greeks have been waging a sporadic guerrilla campaign for Enosis — union with Greece—while the Turks demand that Cyprus be partitioned between the two communities.

Britain gave both the Greek and Turkish governments an advance

Torpedoes Summit Efforts

Gromyko Wrecks Secret Diplomacy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France surveyed the wreckage today of their efforts to set up a summit conference through secret diplomacy.

Moscow blew them out of the water by making public a letter from Soviet Premier Khrushchev denouncing their attempt as needless foot-dragging.

The State Department blasted back by publishing the West's major presummit proposals, hitherto kept secret.

When the smoke cleared, things were right back where they were two months ago, before the Soviet Union agreed to try it the West's way. The Soviet Union was demanding a heads of government meeting. The West was insisting on adequate preparations on lower levels first.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko started things off in Moscow. He called in Ambassadors Llewellyn Thompson of the United States, Sir Patrick Reilly of Britain and Maurice Dejean of France. He told them he was making public Premier Khrushchev's June 11 letter to their government chiefs as well as other top-secret material they had been discussing in Moscow.

The Soviet ambassadors in Washington, Paris and London were called home, meanwhile, for consultation.

In Washington, the State Department rushed out with its side of the story—three documents totaling about 2,000 words which set forth the West's position during the Moscow meetings.

The Khrushchev letter deplored the diplomatic talks in Moscow. The Premier wrote: "In some of these meetings we have only marked time, and in some cases we have even moved backwards.

"It is high time that both sides act with full sincerity to clear up their positions on the main question—Do both sides really want a summit conference?"

There were no surprises immediately apparent in the documents made public by both sides. They showed no progress on the key task of the diplomatic talks, which was to arrange when,

Former Brazil President Dies In Plane Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Former President Nereu Ramos and 18 others were killed Monday night in the crash of a Brazilian airliner which hit a pine tree as it was landing at Curitiba, 400 miles southwest of Rio.

Also killed were Gov. Jorge Lacerda of Santa Catarina state and Congressman Leoberto Leal.

Another congressman, Jose Leme Rodrigues, was among the eight survivors. He was seriously injured.

The twin-engine Convair of the Cruzeiro do Sul Airline was ending a flight from Porto Alegre to Curitiba, the Parana state capital in a coffee-growing area. The airline said the plane struck a tall pine only a few yards from the edge of the airstrip.

Ramos, 69, took the presidency in November 1955 after the army deposed Acting President Carlos Luz to assure the inauguration of Juscelino Kubitschek. Ramos, who had been vice president and next in line for the presidency, served for three months until Kubitschek took over, then became the new president's justice minister. He resigned last August amid reports of a rift between him and Kubitschek.

With Force Under Certain Conditions

Dulles Says U.S. Backs Lebanon Independence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States would use military action under certain conditions to preserve Lebanon's independence.

Dulles told his news conference the U. S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean is watching the crisis-ridden Lebanese situation. He said fleet elements including Marines, could take appropriate action.

U. S. Will Back Dag

Mentioning that U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and a U.N. security force are in the area, Dulles said any proposal by Hammarskjold in this connection would be supported by the United States. He added that this includes physical support.

Dulles said there are other contingencies under which the United States might send military support to Lebanon. But he declined to go into them, excusing himself from his news conference at that point on grounds he had to go to Washington's National Airport to greet arriving Philippine President Carlos P. Garcia.

Other Points Raised

On other points during the news conference, the secretary said:

1. Russia apparently wanted to break off diplomatic talks with the Big Three ambassadors on preparations for a possible summit conference. That, he said, is his inference from the Kremlin's disclosure yesterday of the hitherto secret papers of those meetings amid charges of heel-dragging by the West.

2. He would not predict whether a summit conference is possible this year. But he said the Soviets and the West are as far apart as ever in basic disagreement on

More Rain Is Predicted Tonight and Wednesday

The mercury climbed to a high of only 73 Monday, as cool weather continued in Marion County. The overnight low of 46 was followed by partially overcast skies this morning, with the temperature standing at 67 at noon.

Increasing cloudiness was noted during the morning and the weatherman predicted a chance of shower: both tonight and Wednesday.

A high of 74 is anticipated today, followed by a low of 52 tonight and a peak of perhaps 75 Wednesday.

Wheat Price Support Vote Slated in June

County Farmers Join In Referendum Ballot On Acreage Allotment

On June 20, Marion County wheat growers will join those in the rest of the country in a national referendum to determine whether or not the 1959 wheat crop will include acreage allotments, marketing quotas and price supports at a minimum national average of $1.81 per bushel, or 75 per cent of parity.

If at least two-thirds of the growers voting favor the quotas for 1959, the aforementioned stipulations will be in effect next year. If not, there will be no marketing quotas or penalties, but allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support. The prop would be about $1.20 a bushel, or 50 per cent of parity.

In the seven previous referendums staged since 1941, the nation has voted in favor of quotas but Ohio, in general, has yet to wind up in favor of these marketing curbs. Marion farmers voted for the controls last year for the first time.

Eligible to vote on June 20 are farmers who will be affected by the wheat quotas if they become effective. In consequence, farmers who will have 15 acres or less of wheat for harvest as grain in 1959, and those who are taking part in the 1958 feed wheat program are not eligible to cast ballots.

Eligible farmers must operate in any one of the "commercial" wheat states — those with allotments of more than 25,000 acres. Ohio has an allotment of 1,559,396 for the '59 crop.

In short, the big issue at stake June 20 is the level of price support for 1959 wheat. Do farmers want 75 or 50 per cent of parity for their crop.

Four locations have been designated as voting sites in Marion county. The polls will open at 8 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Farmers in the several townships will cast their votes in the referendum as follows:

Caledonia council room: Claridon, Scott and Tully township farmers.

Waldo township house: Prospect, Richland and Waldo wheat raisers.

New Bloomington town hall: Big Island, Bowling Green, Grand, Montgomery and Salt Rock operators.

Marion ASC office, 194 S. State St.: Grand Prairie, Green Camp, Marion and Pleasant.

Consecration Set For Cincinnati's Auxiliary Bishop

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Most Rev. Paul F. Liebold will be consecrated as the fifth Catholic auxiliary bishop of Cincinnati in ceremonies today at St. Paul in Chains Cathedral.

Archbishop Karl G. Alter will be the consecrating prelate. He will be assistated by Bishop Clarence G. Issenmann of Columbus and Bishop John J. Kroll of Cleveland. Bishop John K. Musio of Steubenville will deliver the sermon.

Taking part in the solemn proceedings at the downtown Cincinnati cathedral will be approximately 25 bishops, 75 monsignori and 400 priests, provincials of religious orders and superiors of women's religious communities.

Bishop-elect Liebold will be the 43rd Cincinnati priest elevated to the episcopal rank since the diocese was created in 1821.

The new auxiliary has been a priest in the diocese since 1940. He was made chancellor in 1948 and has been honored twice by Pope Pius with appointments as papal chamberlain and domestic prelate.

Warren Youth Elected To Top Boys State Post

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—Robert S. Thompson, 17, of Warren, begins his administration today as governor of the 21st Buckeye Boys' State.

He won a landslide victory Monday over Donn Griffith, 16-year-old Buchtel High School student of Akron. The vote was 813 to 196.

Thompson recently completed his junior year at Warren Harding High School, where he was president of the student body and a varsity football player.

He headed the Federalist party ticket in Monday's election and carried three other party nominees into office with him. The Nationalists, headed by Griffith, won two state offices.

The new governor was inaugurated Monday night with Justice Charles S. Zimmerman of the Ohio Supreme Court administering the oath. Other state and court officials also were installed.

Elected to state office with Thompson were:

Lieutenant governor — John J. Race (N), Cincinnati; secretary of state—Richard A. Bell (F), Shaker Heights; treasurer—Edward Walsh (F), Akron; auditor—Jerry Mitchell (N), Massillon; attorney general — Chester Jastrem (F), Toledo.

Richard Black of Columbus was chosen over 12 other candidates as chief justice of the Supreme Court.

His fellow jurists are John Hall, Warren; William Schopf, Columbus; David Gordon, Columbus; Wiley Carr, Lebanon; David Eckard, Akron, and Charles Huffman, Warren.

Named to the Appeals Court were David Dix of Kent, Larry Schiefer of Sycamore and David Miller of Clyde.

Gov. Thompson will face political opposition in the General Assembly, where slight majorities in both houses were won by the Nationalists.

The closest contest in the races for state office was for treasurer, with Walsh defeating Thomas Webb of Shaker Heights, 519 to 492.

All but 10 of the 1,021 boys enrolled for this year's "state," a school in self-government sponsored by the American Legion, cast ballots in the election.

Guilt by Mental Association

The shrewdest tactic in the partisan strategy to tear down confidence in President Eisenhower by undermining Sherman Adams, the presidential assistant, is guilt by mental association.

What Adams did, his Democratic critics now are saying, was as bad as the things that were done during the Truman administration.

This is like comparing a summons to appear for a parking violation in the United States to a midnight kidnaping by the Russian secret police.

The scandals that peppered the Truman administration led to dozens of court proceedings to punish criminal wrong-doing — actual frauds and thefts. The "mess in Washington" that finally convinced Democrats that Mr. Truman should not run for renomination at their nominating convention in 1952 caused 174 Treasury Department employes to be dismissed in the preceding fiscal year — 53 for taking bribes, 24 for embezzlement, 21 for failing to pay their own taxes properly.

It was the most widespread corruption in the federal government that ever had been permitted to develop, in the sense that it affected more government employes. For Democrats to compare Mr. Adams' admitted acceptance of a financial favor from an old friend to the Truman scandals is so preposterous it could be only a malicious maneuver to bestow guilt by mental association.

It has yet to be charged that Mr. Adams improperly influenced any agency of government. Yet, so successfully have his political opponents taken advantage of the inclination of the press and public to lend themselves to character assassination in politics that his name already is associated with the Truman scandals.

Wherever Charley Michelson, who perfected the art of political smearing against the Hoover administration, ended up, he must have enjoyed the headlines of the last few days — whether he was air-conditioned or not.

When Good Men Do Nothing

The fight for decency and integrity in government and law and order in a community's life is frustrating, heart-rending, bitter and dangerous when vice, corruption, racketeering and violence become as deep-seated as they were in Phenix City, Alabama, in 1952.

The penduium of crime and ruthless brutality swings swiftly to the peak of its ascent, entrenches its position and then resists with all the fury of a cornered rattlesnake any effort to reverse its direction.

That was the situation in Phenix City. Public apathy, fear and abject surrender to the forces of evil make the long road back a treacherous one but when men of deep devotion and great courage set their minds and pledge their lives to the job, it can be done, as it was in the vice-ridden Alabama city.

And once the people are aroused, the pendulum gains momentum in its sweep back from the jaws of iniquity. Then, only vigilance can keep it from returning.

The people of Alabama demonstrated their persistent vigilance early this month when they gave John Patterson, by an unprecedented majority, a runoff victory for the Democratic nomination for governor, which is tantamount in that state to election.

John Patterson is the son of Albert Patterson whose murder sparked the Phenix City crime crackdown in 1954. Albert Patterson was the reform candidate for state attorney general and had the aggressive backing of the committee organized to wage the battle for a clean city. He won the election despite vote frauds but was gunned down before he could take office. His son later was elected to the same office.

John Patterson was one of the guests on a recent NBC television show, "This Is Your Life," a Ralph Edwards production. It was a salute to Hugh Bentley, a dedicated and courageous Phenix City merchant who spearheaded the cleanup drive which ultimately led to the closing of gambling joints, honkytonks and houses of prostitution and the ousting of crooks from public office.

During the course of his remarks on the program, Mr. Patterson voiced these words of caution: "I say to all of you — don't let crime take hold in your town. If you do, you had better pray for men like Hugh Bentley and my father, and these other men and women — people willing to die for a decent America."

In response, Mr. Edwards said:

". . . But as you know, good government is not a goal to be reached, but a road to be traveled. Today Phenix City is a clean, orderly and wholesome town, a place where industry and new families are glad to come. All America expresses its gratitude to you (Mr. Bentley), to your town, your state, for this symbol of the triumph of justice."

To which he added the words of the statesman, Edmund Burke:

"All that is necessary for the triumph of evil is that good men do nothing."

De Gaulle Tackles Old Dilemma

Like many a public leader Charles de Gaulle must fervently pray to be delivered from the hands of his friends.

The irreconcilables in Algeria who forced him into power on the crumbling foundations of the Fourth Republic regard him as their champion. But they have been reminded brusquely by the new premier that he regards himself as the champion of France, not of the irreconcilables who used the Algerian issue to force a crisis in the government of France.

They apparently did not believe him when he scoffed at reports that he intended to become a dictator. They must not have believed him, either, when he said it would be his primary concern to reconstitute a French republic so its executive power would not be at the mercy of French political factions.

This has been the dilemma of many a government leader.

The dilemma has been discussed by everyone who has written about the use and misuse of public power. Even in the United States, it is evident that executive power is wielded in the national interest at the risk of offending the particular minority which claims it had the most to do with putting the president in office.

Nothing stands between the ideal of popular government responsive to all the people and dictatorship responsive to a fraction of the people, except the integrity of the president. If he does not choose to dictate, there can be no dictatorship. But if he loses his support there can be no government.

Premier de Gaulle, who does not choose to dictate, is faced with the possibility of not being able to govern without the support of the Algerian dissidents. It was the risk he accepted when he became premier. Algeria, conquered in 1830 by the last of the French Bourbons, Charles X, in the hope it would make him popular, now is challenging the popularity of a French premier trying to keep it from making him a dictator.

Recreation Needed

Marion's supervised summer playground program opened Monday, and we wish Director Paul O'Rourke and his staff the best of luck as they embark on a new season.

Operating at Lincoln Park and three elementary schools (Glenwood, Silver St. and George Washington), the program is an excellent one considering the funds allocated to it and the fact the city has no year-round recreation department.

From time to time concerted efforts have been launched to expand the program, one of the biggest being a full-scale recreation survey made in 1949 under the sponsorship of the Marion Rotary Club.

No appreciable use ever was made of that survey report, probably because recreation always is relegated to a relatively low priority in competition for the tax dollar.

Along with other community needs recreation should be given consideration in the city income tax study, soon to be launched.

It is our firm belief that half or more of such a proposed tax should be earmarked for purposes other than city operating expenses, and on that basis an expanded recreation program certainly should be on the list of possibilities.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The Waldorf-Astoria in conjunction with the New York Community College of Applied Arts and Sciences held commencement exercises and passed out diplomas to graduates in the waiters "university."

This is good news. A waiter with a Phi Beta Kappa key will be welcome anywhere. It will be a delight to be served by an "old grad" who got high marks in civility, patience, understanding, solicitude and speed.

There should have been the following baccalaureate:

"This is indeed a happy occasion, cheering to mankind everywhere. The world would be less endurable without good waiters. The saying 'Man wants but little here below' is not true when it comes to his demands when out to lunch. A waiter is always hard put to please him.

Competency and courtesy makes for pleasure all around. You have finished your advanced schooling in waitership, the highest elements of which are graciousness, efficiency, reasonable swiftness and a keen understanding of the words 'medium rare.'

You have won honors in the difficult courses known as 'Giving the Cash Customer the Best of It Even When He Is No Bargain.' You have passed the test in the college course calling for Service With a Smile Under Pressure.

Harry Truman in Italy must have been frustrated when he tried to take his morning walk in Venice.

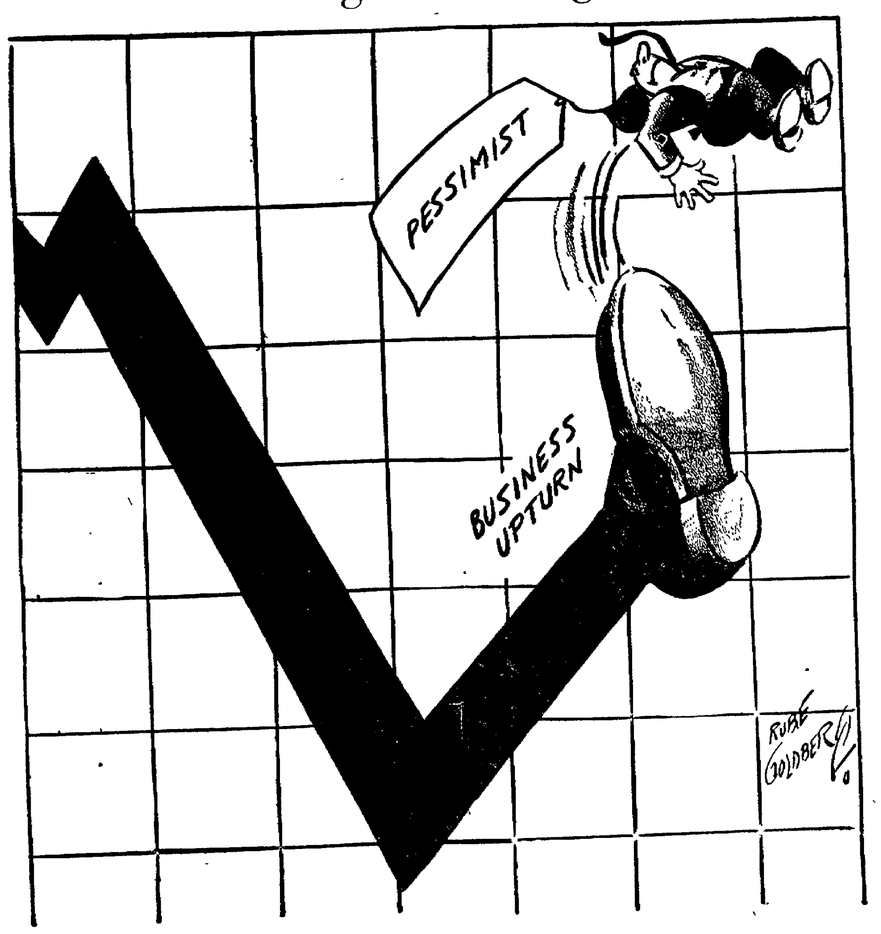
How did secretary Mitchell over in Switzerland, get that message attacking Sen. Kennedy's labor bill here so fast? He yodeled it over.

A woman got a divorce the other day on testimony her husband tried to throw her into an alligator pit on Florida vacation. Women must be getting extra sensitive. They let little things upset domestic bliss. There are rough spots in all marriages and so many battles that more wives would be shoved into alligator pits except for the alligator shortage.

A husband may not mean it. We never threw our missus to an alligator without immediate regret and apology.

After a while she got used to it and her reactions were so swift that we always finish in the alligator pit a little ahead of her.

Design for Living



Charged by Innuendo

By David Lawrence

What's "proper" and "improper" in the Washington world—and what's "ethical" and "unethical"? Judging by the headline publicity given to the Sherman Adams case in the last few days and to the Gen. Vaughan episode during the Truman administration, it is 'improper" for any official to do for a friend what he would do for a stranger.

Lawrence

Gen. Vaughan, who was military aide to President Truman, was unjustly maligned for accepting a "deep freeze" and other gifts from old friends who happened to have business relationships with the government. This correspondent wrote on Aug. 17, 1949, in defense of Gen. Vaughan as follows:

"Gen. Vaughan presumably has the right to speak for the White House. If the words 'military aide' had been dropped from his title and he had acted simply as one of the many civilian assistants at the White House, it is doubtful whether much fuss would have been stirred up about his activities.

"As one of the President's assistants he has had the right to telephone to or confer with anybody about anything happening in the government.

"The impropriety, if any, on Gen. Vaughan's part was in going beyond the functions of a military aide, though again and again in the past military aides have acted virtually as supersecretaries.

"THE ACCEPTANCE of gifts in itself cannot be held to be improper unless in some way the gift can be proved to have been related to some governmental action taken. If, indeed, it can be proved that it was a bribe, then the laws already on the statute books can take care of such cases."

No such proof was ever offered in the case of Gen. Vaughan.

Sherman Adams, chief aide to President Eisenhower in the work of the executive offices, is a man of integrity. The President is convinced he is.

The mere fact that Mr. Adams may have accepted gifts and hospitality from a long-time friend is not evidence either of corruption or of the exercise of an improper influence by Mr. Adams upon any of the independent governmental bodies mentioned in the case.

To insinuate or infer that there was corruption is to libel Mr. Adams. Congressional Committees are, however, immune from libel prosecutions. Thus reputations can be irreparably damaged by statements made by members of congressional committees or their staffs in giving "smear" news to the press.

In this instance the information as to what Mr. Adams really did was not handled by the House committee in such a way that his answer could be given to the public the same day the charges were made.

The accusations were widely spread before the rebuttal could be presented. The implications of wrongdoing were not supported by any proof of undue influence.

THE HOUSE of Representatives, by resolution, in March 1955 modified its own rules and provided that evidence which might "tend to defame or to degrade" an individual must be submitted in private session and an opportunity afforded the person involved to submit to rebuttal.

This rule was violated by the House committee in the Adams case even after attention was called to the rule. For there was no "evidence" of any wrongdoing.

Incidentally not so long ago the so-called liberals were crying out vehemently against the doctrine of "guilt by association" and against "innuendoes" publicly made against individuals who had not had a previous opportunity to know of the charges being made against them before congressional committees or to answer such charges before degrading publicity has issued.

The reason for all this of course, is politics. The Republicans in the 1952 campaign referred often to the charges of corruption which they said had happened under the Truman regime. Now the Democrats are striking back.

IT HAPPENS, however, that some of the individuals involved in those charges under the Truman administration were tried by the courts and ordered to serve jail sentences. This is not at all parallel to what was revealed last week under the Republican administration.

Plainly, if Sherman Adams had thought at the time that there was anything wrong in accepting presents or hospitality from an old friend, he would have avoided any such embarrassment.

Likewise, if he had believed it was improper to phone a governmental agency to make a routine inquiry about a friend's case, Mr. Adams would never have done it.

Theoretically, he should have rejected any hospitality or gifts at Christmas from every friend and should have said: "I am sorry, but, if I take the gifts and someday you need an introduction to any government official—to which you would be justly entitled—I will not be able to do for you what I could do for a perfect stranger."

Many members of Congress frequently accept gifts and hospitality for their constituents who have legislation pending in the Senate or the House. Is this "proper" or "improper"?

It certainly is not on its face evidence of corruption but only a striking example of how "guilt by innuendo" can impair the right of every individual to be considered honest until proved dishonest.

Never Turn Back

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

It has come to my attention lately that some men are having trouble with women — and don't know why. In my lifetime, taking it as it goes it has appeared to me that there are only two ways to deal with women, girls and widows:

HAL BOYLE

1. Go outdoors and point out the stars to them.
2. Stay indoors and tell them about the stars.

Women have a strange sense of truth.

THEY CAN be sharp as a tack in a business operation, but they are eternally vulnerable to flattery. They will even consciously pay for it to bolster their ego.

An honest man can look at himself in the mirror and know that he isn't desirable. It is the rare, rare woman who can do this. No woman, though her face could startle a nervous rooster into laying an egg, is without a conviction of personal beauty.

A man hesitates to be handsome. A woman demands to be pretty. And in a way she can. By being desirable and thinking of herself as desirable, she can enforce this concept of at least partial loveliness.

THE UGLIEST woman has a passion to be admired and desired, not for her character but for her physical charm.

The whole art of dealing with women is one of perpetual adoration, emphasized by departure.

Put your best girl on a pedestal, then walk away from her. The rest of her life she will gratefully pursue you with both of her clay feet.

Never turn back.

Daily Bible Thought

"The grass withereth and the flower fadeth, the Word of our God endureth forever." Isaiah 40:8. The Hebrew word "dabar" translated WORD has more than a score of different meanings. The Bible certainly contains God's Word, though some parts are vastly more helpful than others. A dumb beast selects herbage in its pasture that it finds nourishing. We should be equally wise.

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

"Junior's too young for the 'bees and flowers' story, dear! . . . Let's tell him we won baby on a quiz show! . . . He'll understand that!"

No Question of Immunity

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Sherman Adams, who's played hard to get before, has now agreed to face a congressional committee investigating his relations with Bernard Goldfine, Boston millionaire who paid his hotel bills. Why?

Adams, President Eisenhower's No. 1 assistant and so powerful in the White House and the government that he's almost a junior president, says he's "disposed" to answer questions. He could hardly do otherwise.

In the past he could claim immunity. Not now.

If the Adams-Goldfine relationship involved official business Adams could have refused to go before the committee. That's what he did three years ago when his testimony was sought in the Dixon-Yates case. He claimed immunity then.

BUT WHAT GOLDFINE did for Adams and Adams for Goldfine was on a personal basis and did not involve any official action by President Eisenhower, his Cabinet or his advisers.

And that makes all the difference.

At one time or another 18 presidents, from Washington to Eisenhower, have refused to let congressional committees examine either individuals or records from the executive branch of the government for such reasons as this:

That they have a constitutional right to keep confidential from Congress papers and information which they think, in the public interest, require secrecy.

This is based on the constitutionally separation of powers between the executive and legislative branches of government. For example:

During the 1954 Army-McCarthy hearings Eisenhower refused to let a Senate committee question some of his aides about a discussion they had on the Army's dealings with Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis). Adams was in on that discussion.

THERE IS NO CLAIM of official business, or the public good, or the need for secrecy in the Adams-Goldfine case, which Adams himself put on a personal plane by explaining his relationship with Goldfine was that of an old family friend.

The rich Goldfine paid more than $2,000 in hotel bills for Adams and may have given him at least a $700 coat and a $2,400 rug. The White House refused to affirm or deny that Adams accepted the coat and rug.

But Adams did something for Goldfine too. Goldfine was having trouble with the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission and Adams made inquiries at both agencies on behalf of his benefactor.

He also arranged an interview for Goldfine with one of the commissioners but denies any insinuation he at any time used his influence to help the millionaire.

Time magazine, in an interview with Goldfine, quoted him as saying when a man has problems he goes to some public figure—like a senator or governor—but "not to some schmo."

Adams is no schmo when it comes to influence in Washington.

It Won't Happen Here

By Truman Twill

Of all the knot-headed ideas that have got into print lately, the dumbest is the possibility that the male of the species might lose his biological significance and be allowed to grow extinct.

A Dutch histologist says evolution might produce an all-female world in which boying and girling no longer would be necessary to perpetuate the species. He has overlooked all the things men do to justify their existence, besides helping to perpetuate the species. The guy must be a sex manic if he thinks that is the reason evolution has been tolerant of us.

The main thing men do is admire women, which is what makes life worth living, as far as women are concerned. Besides admiring them, men also criticize women, design clothes for them and are their severest critics.

They hold doors open for them, protect them against wild beasts and other marauders, make laps for them to sit on when they are lonely, chuck them under the chin when they are feeling downhearted:

Beat them with sticks and other implements when they are naughty, give them something to talk about at hen parties, change auto tires, manufacture labor-saving machinery to lengthen their lives and turn out oodles of oddments designed to keep them from looking as ghastly as they let themselves look when they quit trying to make a good impression.

Men climb ladders and descend into mine shafts, things that women do not do well and would rather not do at all. They fight wars for the sole purpose of keeping women safe from ruthless enemy men. They slave and toil and knock themselves out for what? Women.

But mostly what men do that cannot be dispensed with is to take criticism from women and not be crushed by it or sent into rages. Oh sure, sometimes a male hits a female in the eye or maybe pincushions her with a few bullets or a toad-sticker. But year in and year out, men listen to women second-guess them about everything under the sun and stay serene and happy.

They are sweetly aware, men are, that women are natural experts. They know how all things should be done, if there is a man around to do the work. Women are born with knowledge of how to ask the boss for a raise, handle difficult situations, train dogs and children, paint houses, plant gardens, trim shrubbery, run the government, balance the budget, curb delinquency, lift up the downfallen, clear slums and fatten up the tax duplicate.

All they require to put these skills to use in behalf of other women and especially widows and mothers is to have men handy to carry out their instructions.

If the Dutch histologist is right and there aren't going to be any more widows and mothers — not in the old-fashioned sense, anyway — part of the incentive for having the world made safe for womanhood through the strivings of men would be destroyed right there and the rest wouldn't be worth saving.

Women let men become extinct? You're crazy, Dutchie.

News of Other Years

40 YEARS AGO — The French captured 100 German prisoners and machine guns as they bettered their positions north and northwest of Hautebraye between the Oise and the Asine.

Orders directing General Leonard A. Wood to take stateside command of the department of the west in San Frncisco on the eve of the departure of his troops for a foreign battlefield were canceled after strong protests from Wood and his friends. New orders were issued directing him to remain at Fort Riley, Kan., with his troops.

Pvt. W. J. Dayton, the first American to die on German soil, was awarded the Croix de Guerre by the French government.

20 YEARS AGO — Heirs of a Masontown, Pa., recluse, believed to be penniless, uncovered money and securities valued at $500,000. The man was Fred Schroyer.

County commissioners announced that an oil-treating program would take the place of usual surface-treating for Marion County roads. The reason for the change was to save money to be used for WPA projects to keep 600 men working.

Plans for a testimonial dinner in honor of Fire Chief T. J. McFarland, serving his 35th year as chief of the Marion fire department, were announced.

More than 500 persons attended a military funeral held for deceased Marion army flier, Harold Nordquest, at Forest Glen Memorial Park. During the service, conducted by men from Fort Hayes in Columbus, a plane flew low over the grave dropping flowers on the flier's final resting place.

Sen. Royal S. Copeland, 69-year-old New York Democrat, died in Washington.

10 YEARS AGO — A non-sectarian Bible School was held at Oak St. School for more than 100 children ranging in age from 4 to 12 as a summer project of the Business and Professional Women's Club. It was the first of its kind to be sponsored in Marion.

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. announced plans to return to Marion in a new store to be built on N. Main St. The A & P, formerly located on S. Main St., had left in March the preceding year after its building lease expired.

Congress made history by passing major legislation over President Truman's veto for the third time in four days. The bill was one to permit railroads to make rate agreements of a kind formerly barred by anti-trust laws.

Maurice C. Clements, 64, a La Rue Republican, was sworn in as county auditor.

Unable to pay the fine, the youth was committed to city jail, police said.

Johnson was arrested Monday night in connection with the theft of a small portable radio at the National Mailing Service store on Harding Highway E.

Compromise Sought in Congress on New Civil Space Agency

Senate Kills Proposal for Single Chief

Calls for 7-Member Board Instead; Bill Is Now in House Hands

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House strategists start maneuvering today for a compromise on rival versions of a bill to set up a new civilian space agency.

The Senate overrode a recommendation of President Eisenhower in voting Monday to create a National Aeronautics and Space Agency bossed by a seven-member board.

Eisenhower, in seeking the legislation, proposed the new agency be headed by a single director working with a strictly advisory board to plan and control space age programs for peaceful civilian purposes. The House, in passing its version of the bill earlier this month, generally followed that recommendation.

The bill now goes back to the House, which is expected to agree quickly to a conference committee to work out the differences.

Under the Senate version the seven man policy-making board would include the secretaries of state and defense, the chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, the director of NASA, and three other members from interested government agencies to be appointed by the President.

Compensation Premiums Due

Workmen's compensation premium payments for 1957 totaling $83,152 are to be paid into the state treasury this week by all county governmental subdivisions, County Auditor Maurice C. Clements said today.

The payments are based on a set rate for each $1,000 of insurance, Mr. Clements said.

The largest single payment will be made by the city where the rate of $3.63 per $1,000 brings the amount due to $53,026, Mr. Clements said. The county's rate is $3.92, but the premium payments are split up among a number of funds.

Payments from other governmental subdivisions are:

Villages, $788; city schools, $5,626; county school districts, $3,233; Marion Carnegie Public Library, $96; Marion County Board of Education, $51; city and county relief, $1,100; district board of health, $745; county road maintenance and repair, $5,098; county dog and kennel fund, $343, and all other county employes, $11,778.

He will discuss the type of service expected from suppliers calling on Ohio restaurateurs. The program will be sponsored by the Ohio State Restaurant Association.

Marion Youngsters Return From Trip to Nassau

See U.S. Capital on Way To Bahamas; Earn Own Passage

Six Marion youngsters have just returned from a sight-seeing trip to Washington, D.C., and Nassau in the Bahamas financed through a series of money-making projects in the last year.

Accompanied by three adult chaperones, the five boys and one girl between the ages of 10 and 13 spent one day touring government buildings in the nation's capital, and then took a seven-day cruise and tour of Nassau.

—:—

THE SHIP was their headquarters during the two days and one night spent at Nassau, Mrs. Ralph Harruff, guiding spirit of the adventure, reported.

The trip out and back consumed the other five days.

The group, which last year "worked" its way to Cleveland, this year promoted three rummage sales and delivered advertising literature to earn money.

Thus they banked the $130 per person required for the excursion.

The group of six youngsters and three adults traveled by bus to Washington, D.C., and from there boarded the USS Yarmouth at Pier 5.

A highlight of the trip was the half-day spent aboard the private yacht, "The Traveler," as guests of Capt. and Mrs. A. W. Crimmins, touring through the Bahamas.

—:—

TWO OF THE boys, Gregg Harruff and James Lenavitt, who are excellent swimmers, dived down to examine the coral reefs at close hand, while the remainder of the group saw the famed sea structures through a glass - bottom dinghy.

Another topic of conversation for several days will be the squall the boat encountered as it entered the Potomac River on the return trip, delaying docking for several hours.

Mrs. Harruff says the group took numerous pictures and plans have been made to have the boys give illustrated talks before various social and civic groups.

Members of the Nassau touring group were: Steven Brownstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Brownstein of 625 S. Prospect St.; Gregory Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Brown of 610 Cherry St.; Gregg and Deidra Joan Harruff, son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harruff of 360 Girard Ave.; James Lenavitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lenavitt of 123 E. Columbia St.; Michael Spicer, son of Sgt. and Mrs. Donald Spicer of 640½ S. Prospect St: Mrs. George Blake of 420 Windsor St.; Miss Ruth Browarsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newman Browarsky of 781 Mount Vernon Ave., and Mrs. Harruff.

NASSAU TRAVELERS RETURN. Mrs. Ralph Harruff (center), points out on the map the location of Nassau which these children visited on a seven-day cruise to the Bahama Island group in the Atlantic Ocean off the coast of Florida. Nassau is the capital of the Bahamas and is located on New Providence Island. The five boys and one girl who worked for a year earning their trip fare are: (left to right), Deidra Joan Harruff, Michael Spicer, Gregg Harruff, Steven Brownstein, James Lenavitt, and Gregory Brown.

General Fund Must Provide Hardin Relief

KENTON—Hardin County's welfare and relief department will have to turn to the county's general fund to provide money to take care of relief cases there the rest of this year.

That appeared to be the solution today to what is an unfortunate situation in that area. On Friday, a welfare and relief notice indicated that retroactive to June 1, r ey given needy persons for food would be cut by 20 per cent. The directive noted that funds for shelter, clothing and utilities would be cut off completely.

A total of 1,256 persons, the majority of whom are women and children, are listed on the Hardin relief roles.

In a letter to the welfare agency Monday, Ohio Rep. Joseph Lady pointed out that the state has allocated to the limit of the law funds to match those provided by individual counties for relief and that those funds have been spent through March of this year.

Rep. Lady noted that the payment for April, May and June, under the quarterly setup, will not be due until July 1. After that, appropriations will be made for the new fiscal year.

Rex Wilson, Hardin county auditor, said Monday that $54,000 had been allocated this year for the county's matching relief payments. However, he added that an overdraft of $8,500 made last year had to be applied on this year's bill. This, he noted, accounted at least in part for the depletion of the relief funds and made necessary the release Friday.

Rep. Lady declared Monday that needy persons in the county would "have to be taken care of."

He said a radio, a horn ring assembly, a cigarette lighter, the chrome trim around the dashboard, a rubber floor mat and a hub cap were taken. He valued the missing parts at a total of $57.

Brown said: "If all the charges are true, then Mr. Adams has been very indiscreet, to say the least, and his value to the administration seems to have been destroyed."

Baumhart, a former executive director of the National Republican Committee, said: "I campaigned against mink coats and deepfreezes and I'm just as critical when this happens in my own party."

A fourth Ohio Republican, Rep. William Hess, said he, too, thought Adams had been indiscreet but that it was too early to make a final judgment.

Other Ohio GOP Congressmen talked more guardedly about the Adams affair. Sen. John W. Bricker, who is up for re-election, said he didn't want to say anything.

Others willing to talk—like Rep. David Dennison, John E. Henderson and William H. Ayres—said they wanted to see more facts before expressing an opinion.

"I have never and I do not now condone influence peddling in official circles," Dennison said. "But with respect to the charges against Mr. Sherman Adams, I think it improper to prejudge the facts as given."

Henderson said:

"I don't know whether what I have heard is true. So I'm not going to prejudge a fellow in the storm he is caught in right now."

Ayres compared Adams' activities to neckties just given to every member of Congress, some reporters and the White House by a New Orleans tie manufacturer in honor of Father's Day.

"Of course, I'm going to keep my tie," Ayres told a reporter. "But it's one of the things a guy has to decide for himself.

Economic Aid To Be Sought By Philippines

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Carlos P. Garcia of the Philippines arrives today for a three-day state visit during which he is expected to seek substantial U. S. economic assistance.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles arranged to greet the 61-year-old Asian leader and his party on their arrival at National Airport. They were flying from Honolulu aboard Eisenhower's personal plane, the Columbine III.

After a 21-gun salute and other military honors at the airport, the two presidents were to ride together in a procession to the President's guest house.

A series of ceremonial visits by the Philippine president preceded a formal state dinner at the White House tonight.

In the course of later discussions, Garcia and other Philippine officials are expected to seek more than 350 million dollars in long term loans and credits.

After a 50-minute conference with Eisenhower Monday, Dulles said the United States would discuss anything Garcia wished to bring up.

Ridgedale School Board Okays Boundary Shifts

Changes in elementary school boundaries within the Ridgedale School District were made during a continued session of a djourned meeting of the Ridgedale Board of Education Monday night.

Transfers affected children in two buildings. Youngsters living on Fountain St. in Marion and on Rt. 30-S beween Marion and Big Island were shifted from Morral to Meeker School.

Other changes were moving students from Brush Ridge to Morral School from the Grand Prairie building. About 35 youngsters are involved in the latter transfer while 25 are concerned in the shift from Morral to Meeker.

Supt. F. D. Goare said this morning the transfers were necessary to cut enrollment at Grand Prairie, alleviating a space shortage for at least one year.

In announcing that Adams would testify, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower had asked him to tell newsmen there is "no individual, in or out of government, that he had more confidence in than Sherman Adams."

Despite Adams' decision to testify and Eisenhower's strong defense of him, reports persisted in Congress that the presidential assistant may bow out later to take the edge off of Democratic political attacks.

There was nothing new in the West: suspend nuclear tests and quit making nuclear weapons under adequate inspection-control safeguards, cut back conventional arms and manpower, devote space to peaceful uses, reunify Germany, guarantee European security, quit jamming foreign radio broadcasts, end censorship, lift bans on publications in the Soviet Union, stop restricting travel inside the Soviet Union, strengthen the United Nations, provide more freedom in the Eastern European satellite countries.

Adams

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif) told Adams.

Critical of 'Mess'

Adams was one of those critical of what the Republicans called the "mess in Washington" when they campaigned to put a "clean-as-a-hounds-tooth" government under Eisenhower.

Adams told reporters he would discuss with presidential press secretary James Hagerty the possibility of holding a news conference later.

Counsel Lishman contended a violation of law stemmed from Adams' 1954 telephone inquiry to the FTC about an investigation of a Goldfine mill for alleged misbranding of the content of a fabric.

As a result of the call, Lishman said, Goldfine learned the name of a complainant and also that the matter might be settled if the mill would agree to change its labels. He said that giving this information to Goldfine was in violation of law and regulations.

Adams commented:

"So far as I am concerned, he got information supplied by the responsible official. I made no special request. I am ignorant of the rules and regulations of the commission. . .I had assumed quite obviously that what he got he was entitled to under rules and regulations."

Might Have Been Different

Under questioning then, Adams testified that had he known of the rules, "my decision might have been different" in interceding with the FTC for Goldfine.

In earlier testimony, Adams had acknowledged he had received a rug and a coat from Goldfine and let the textile magnate pay hotel bills for him in Boston, New York and Plymouth, Mass.

But he said the rug — which reputedly cost $2,400 — was only lent to him, and he depreciated the value of the coat. Adams said he had checked and the coat material cost the industrialist's mill about $69.

Total in Excess of $2,000

The total of the hotel bills, as developed in testimony before the committee, was something in excess of $2,000.

Before Adams came before the committee, the White House had reported that Goldfine gave Eisenhower some vicuna material, but that the President gave it away.

As to his contacts with federal agencies in relation to Goldfine's affairs, Adams said they gave the industrialist no benefit that he could not have received had he gone directly to the agency involved "and he and I had been complete strangers."

Adams came before the committee with a 1,500-word prepared statement, but frequently departed from a reading of it to fire off-the-cuff remarks.

Tosses Question to Congress

In one of these, he tossed squarely back to Congress the question whether an official who makes an inquiry or sets up an appointment for a friend is behaving improperly.

"Is there any member of this Congress who has not made a phone call for a constituent?" Adams asked. "Is there any member of Congress who has not made an appointment for some constituent who found himself concerned with some activity of the government?

"Is there any member of Congress willing to stand and say that by reason of that appointment or activity his vote was affected on any public question?"

Adams stressed that he was appearing at his own request—having volunteered Monday to testify at about the same time the committee invited him to do so.

Has Ike's Special Counsel

Sitting at his right elbow was the President's special counsel, Gerald D. Morgan.

Also accompanying Adams to the hearing was his wife, Rachel.

Adams was sworn in at 10:15 a.m. by the subcommittee chairman, Oren Harris (D-Ark), vowing to tell the truth.

Adams told the committee members he and Goldfine had been friends for many years and had exchanged a number of gifts. He said he once gave Goldfine a gold watch.

As for his relations with the wealthy Goldfine, his good friend, Adams told the House Subcommittee on Legislative Oversight:

"I can only say to this committee, with a clear conscience, that in the 5½ years that I have been at my post, I have never permitted any personal relationships to affect in any way any actions of mine in matters relating to the conduct of my office.

"If, on the contrary, I have in any way so conducted myself as to cast any semblance of doubt upon such conduct, I can only say that the error was one of judgment and not of intent."

The testimony by Adams came on the heels of an acknowledgement by the White House that President Eisenhower himself once accepted a supply of valuable vicuna cloth from Goldfine. The White House said, however, that Eisenhower passed the gift along to a friend and now can't even remember who the friend was.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, discussed the presidential gift at a special news conference, called to talk about a column by Drew Pearson. Hagerty said the article contained at least 10 "lies."

Acknowledges Bills Paid

In his prepared testimony, Adams acknowledged that Goldfine paid hotel bills for him at the plush Waldorf-Astoria in New York, in addition to Boston hotel bills previously brought into testimony before the committee.

The investigators brought out that the New York hotel bills were paid about the time one of Goldfine's textile companies was in trouble before the Federal Trade Commission. The case was settled about the same time. There had been testimony about inquiries by Adams to the FTC about his friend's troubles there, but Adams has denied he used any influence.

In his statement, Adams posed these questions to the subcommittee:

"Did Bernard Goldfine benefit in any way in his relations with any branch of the federal government because he was a friend of Sherman Adams?

"Did Sherman Adams seek to secure any favors or benefits for Bernard Goldfine because of this friendship?

"My answer to both questions is: 'No'."

Deals With Rug and Coat

Dealing with the rug and coat reports Adams said first:

"When Bernard Goldfine first visited Mrs. Adams and me in the house we now occupy in Washington he commented on the shabbiness of the rug which then covered a rather large living room floor. He said he would like to get a better one, although I told him at the time that such a rug would be of no use to us when we moved from our present house or returned to New Hampshire.

"He replied that when that time came and I had no further use for it, I should return it. The rug is his property and he so regards it."

As for the report regarding the coat, Adams said: Bernard Goldfine is a manufacturer of fabrics. He is proud of his mills and their products. From time to time he has expressed this pride in the form of gifts made of these fabrics, which he has presented to many friends and officials of government.

"As an example, he presented, in the year 1955, to each of the governors of the states and territories, sufficient woolen fabric to make a suit. Mrs. Adams and I, in common with many other of his friends, have been recipients of such gifts.

Question Raised About Coats

"A question has been raised about a coat, reportedly valued at a fantastic sum, which was given to me. I have inquired as to the cost of the fabric which was manufactured on the looms of one of his mills and made up by a local tailor.

"I have learned that the material from which this garment was made cost his mill about $69. I accepted this gift in the same spirit in which he had accepted, many years ago, a gold watch from me."

As for the propriety of government officials accepting gifts from friends, Adams first posed this question to the subcommittee:

"Is it proper for any public official to accept any gifts from any friend?"

Adams' reply: "This is a question which every man in public life can only answer for himself. Surely I am not insensitive to interpretations that it is possible to place upon a situation involving my relationship with a friend who becames involved, advertently or inadvertently, with matters in public agencies.

Says Conscience Clear

"I can only say to this committee, with a clear conscience, that in the 5½ years that I have been at my post, I have never permitted any personal relationships to affect in any way any actions of mine in matters relating to the conduct of my office.

"If, on the contrary, I have any way so conducted myself as to cast any semblance of doubt on such conduct, I can only say that the error was one of judgment and not of intent."

At the outset of his statement, Adams promised to give the subcommittee full and frank answers to any questions they may wish to ask regarding the propriety of any of his relations with Goldfine.

Backgrounding his friendship with Goldfine, Adams said he did not know the currently wealthy industrialist when Goldfine first came to New Hampshire in the early 1930s. He related at that time Adams himself was an employe of a corporation producing lumber and manufacturing paper.

Adams said he first met Goldfine about 1940 when they were introduced by Norris Cotton, now Republican U.S. senator from New Hampshire.

Goldfine Action Acknowledged

President Also Handed Gift of Expensive Cloth

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House acknowledged today that industrialist Bernard Goldfine once gave President Eisenhower a supply of expensive vicuna cloth.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower gave the material to a friend. Hagerty added the President does not remember the name of the friend.

Hagerty called a special news conference to discuss the matter just ahead of an appearance by Sherman Adams, the President's chief aide, to tell a congressional committee under oath about his own relations with Goldfine.

Discusses Pearson Article

The press secretary discussed an article by Drew Pearson which reported that Eisenhower had received a vicuna coat from Goldfine.

Hagerty denied the story as to the coat, but conceded the gift of cloth.

Hagerty said at the outset of his news conference that he would try to discuss the Pearson column without getting angry. Then he went on to say that seven paragraphs of the column contained at least 10 complete falsehoods.

Dealing first with the Pearson contention that Goldfine gave Eisenhower a three-quarter length vicuna coat, Hagerty asserted: "That is not true."

Ike Has Two Vicuna Coats

He said Eisenhower does have two vicuna coats, one of which he has had since the middle 1940s; the other acquired about 1952. The press secretary did not go into detail on how Eisenhower obtained them.

Hagerty then said it is true that along about November 1956 Goldfine did send the President some vicuna material.

Eisenhower wrote Goldfine a letter of thanks, but never had anything made from the material, Hagerty said.

Hagerty said that Eisenhower thanked Goldfine for the vicuna material, as well as for nice things Goldfine had said about the President and his administration.

Asked why Eisenhower accepted the material, Hagerty replied that all presidents receive gifts from people. As Hagerty read over the Pearson story point by point he interjected such comments as "That's a lie" and "That also is a lie."

Story Quotes Adams

Pearson's story quoted Adams as saying Eisenhower received a three-quarter length vicuna coat from Goldfine. "That's untrue," Hagerty commented on this statement.

"That's just a lie," Hagerty said with reference to a Pearson statement that Adams used an airline credit card on one of Goldfine's companies.

To Pearson's statement that Adams received several rugs from Goldfine, Hagerty said that "is also a lie."

He described as another lie Pearson's statement that Adams received a considerable amount of furniture from Goldfine for Adams' Washington home.

Asked whether this meant that Adams had received no furniture from Goldfine, Hagerty replied: "That is what Mr. Adams told me."

Pranksters Take Cemetery Cannon

Pranksters Monday night entered the Marion Cemetery and removed a small cannon from the American Legion burial plot, police said today.

The cannon was found abandoned on Vernon Heights Blvd. east of the point where tracks showed that a car had towed the cannon through a hedge fence on the south side of the cemetery.

Police notified cemetery officials and the cannon was returned to its resting place.

James Dickson, cemetery superintendent, said today that a reward will be offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the removal of the cannon.

De Gaulle Taking Mollet to Algeria

PARIS (AP)—Premer de Gaulle announced today that he will return to Algeria July 2. He will take with him Socialist ex-Premier Guy Mollet, a major target of French rightists who led the revolt in Algeria.

Mollet's inclusion in De Gaulle's Cabinet had provoked bitter criticism among the members of the revolutionary All-Algeria Committee of Public Safety.

By taking Mollet, De Gaulle will be putting to the test his authority over the army in Algeria and the loyalty to his government of the French population there.

Genevieve Intensely Loyal to Jack Parr

It would seem that Jack Paar and NBC are courting trouble in the case of that Gallic firebrand with the singular name, Genevieve.

Marie Torre

Twice a week she toils on the bedtime show without contract, except the bewitching chanteus calls it "paper" and pronounces it "paypuh." Contract or "paypuh," the fact remains there's nothing that legally binds her to the "Jack Paar Show," or vice versa, and that seems a fool-hardy practice on the part of management in view of her growing popularity among TV insomniacs.

Genevieve, urchin hair cut and all, could be snapped up in a minute by any money-waving video entrepreneur. And she doesn't deny that some have iested her will power in the face of beaucoup francs.

"But eet ees impossible I go 'way from Jacques," she counters.

"Nevaire! I have no paypuh weeth Jacques, but affection—yes, confidence—yes. That more important than paypuh. You know what hoppen' to Dody Goodman. She no more on show and she has paypuh."

-:-

IT'S AMAZING what Genevieve's learr ed about our culture. And about winning over a public. Her droll jousts with the English tongue have endeared her both to the television audience and to Paar, who nods in perfect understanding on TV while she releases her rational reasoning on a variety of subjects.

Paar lets her "talk" her way to stardom and in return for that, her allegiance to him knows no bounds.

"I know not why I have so moch success," she explains. "I talk like thees since leetle girl. But I am happee—happee not to seeng so much no more. The songs are stupid 'I love you, you love me; my hand in your hand, your hand in my hand' stupid. I cannot support. Also, the songs I like to seeng sound stupid weeth my accent, so eet ees betaire I seeng very leetle."

That's not to say she intends to completely eliminate the musical one of these days.

"I am like all arteests," she says, "I dream to do musical comedy on Broadway. That okay weeth Jacques. I still do show weeth him eef I work on Broadway."

-:-

TO MAKE SURE she may remain by Paar's side, until ratings do them part, Genevieve has begun proceedings to become an American citizen. After all, Jacques and America made her a star.

In France, she was merely the owner of a small bistro which accommodated about 20 customers.

"I always cook the dinner," Genevieve recalls about those days in France. "Then when all bodies feel good weeth food and wine, I seeng old French songs for them. One night thees nice Americain, Baron Polan, hear me and say 'Come to America.' But I am cook, not seengaire. Anyway, I come. And right away I seeng in beeg Americain hotels."

It's a wonder that Mr. Polan, as Genevieve's personal manager, doesn't seek a contract from NBC for his client's services. All managers do and we told her so.

"For why?" she responded. "I have no paypuh weeth Mr. Polan."

-:-

BEGINNING AUG. 16, CBS, will come out with all guns blazing on Saturday nights. Added to the weekly lineup is Rory Calhoun's new western, "The Texan," which joins "Have Gun, Will Travel" and "Gunsmoke" on the trigger-happy Saturday schedule.

An emergency appendectomy forced Ward Bond away from "Wagon Train" cameras, meaning he'll be out of a few of the filmed episodes early next season. To no one's surprise, six sponsors were waiting in line when word got out about Bing Crosby's two yearly specials on ABC. General Motors was the early bird.

A report from "The Million" casting department cries for the need of a long-haired, calico type, cross - eyed cat. As Jack Paar would say, we kid you not. Scheduled for filming in July is a yarn called "My Aunt's Cat, Ralph," requiring an ugly kitty and the search for one has proved fruitless—or, more accurately, catless.

"Do you know the whereabouts of such a cat?" writes story editor Milton Merlin. "If you do, please send us a picture, plus information concerning the owner, the cat's age, temperament, etc. Please do not send us the cat! Just the picture. I'm allergic to cat fur, my doctor tells me, which further complicates the situation."

Ohio Officers Are Re-Elected By Probation and Parole Assn.

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP)—A probation officer from Cleveland and a former probation officer from Ashland will continue to serve as president and executive secretary of the Ohio Probation and Parole Assn.

They are Angelo J. Gagliardo, chief probation officer of Cleveland Municipal Court, re - elected president, and Mrs. June Hammond, named to serve again as executive secretary.

With other officers, they were elected Monday night during the association's four-day meeting at Bowling Green State University.

Other officers include Miller S. Mackey, vice president, and Louis A. Rossi, treasurer. Mackey is administrative assistant in the State Bureau of Probation and Parole at Columbus, and Rossi is chief probation officer for Middletown's Municipal Court.

Executive vice presidents were named for the association's three cabinets. They are Orville Kreager, chief probation officer for Licking County Juvenile Court at Newark, juvenile cabinet; Mrs. Helen S. Deutemeier, divorce investigator for Butler County Common Pleas Court at Middletown, divorce cabinet; and Joseph G. Cannon, supervising social worker for the State Division of Correction at Columbus, adult cabinet.

In sessions Monday, association members heard about steps taken by official agencies and volunteer organizations to solve problems arising from American family life.

A Presbyterian minister from Lakewood, Dr. L. Wilson Kilgore, said Divorcees Anonymous tries to discourage couples from turning to divorce to solve marriage problems.

He said the non-sectarian, non-profit organization—which he helped found—uses group discussions and talks by marriage counselors to help those with problems.

Where persons are already divorced, he added, Divorcees Anonymous tries to help adjustment.

A professor from Ohio State University, Dr. Richard Clendenen, said intra-family discussions have proven more effective than individual interviews where many juvenile problems are concerned.

He said these problems often result from multiple-problem families, such as when the father may be a heavy drinker and the mother is neurotic. About 50 per cent of juvenile problems are caused by less than 1 per cent of the nation's youth, he declared.

The 11th annual conference opened Sunday and closes Wednesday.

Large stockyards of the Producers Cooperative Commission Association, largest livestock marketing organization in Ohio, are located at Fostoria.

Assets of Wittenberg College Hit $15 Million

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Wittenberg College's assets are almost 15 million dollars, close to three times what they were in 1948, President Clarence C. Stoughton says.

What's more, he told the board of directors Monday night, 1957-58 enrollment in all schools at Wittenberg set an all-time record. Dean John N. Stauffer said 3,618 students had been enrolled.

The president said directors are contemplating changing the school's name to Wittenberg University in September 1959.

Braille Radio Aids Sightless Illinois Boy, 13

CHICAGO (AP) — Blinded 3½ years ago, Phillip Horwitz, 13, has created a new and brighter world through the Braille-marked dials of a ham radio set.

"It pulls me through my crisis," Phillip told newsmen. "There is so much to think about and plan and I have gained many friends."

Each day he talks to several people, his mother Mildred Horwitz said. He has contacted operators in 41 states and 17 countries.

Mrs. Horwitz spoke at her son's bedside in Illinois Masonic Hospital, where Phillip is recovering from a third operation seeking to restore his sight. He went blind suddenly 3½ years ago after a brain operation.

"He's in wonderful spirits," said Mrs. Horwitz. "He's willing to take a challenge and won't be daunted.

"He is the type of child who never said, 'Why does this happen to me?'"

Phillip took up amateur radio as a hobby two years ago. When he received his set the manufacturer sent engineers to his home to mark the dials in Braille. He speedily passed his operator's test with high grades. His call letters are K9GBS.

Aided by Braille textbooks Phillip also excelled in his grammar school courses. He is scheduled to graduate with honors from the eighth grade next week.

Traps Set in Bucyrus For Japanese Beetles

BUCYRUS — Two hundred traps to catch Japanese beetles are being placed in Bucyrus this week by representatives of the Ohio Department of Agriculture, cooperating with the local officials and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

Purpose of the trapping is to obtain information on the population and status of the beetle to aid in determining what control measures might be available, John W. Baringer, chief of the Ohio Division of Plant Industry, reported. Most of the traps will be placed in residential sections for a week-six period.

GOP Campaign School Includes Labor Course

By VICTOR RIESEL

There'll be no bells ringing Wednesday at Washington's Hotel Statler to start the classes of a special 48-student school. Bell ringing will come later—for this will be the Republican party's campaign school.

VICTOR RIESEL

In three intensive days, the GOP, symbolized by the ivory - tusked elephant, plans to drive all ivory-tower thinking from the men who head each of their state committees. In those three days, 48 Republican state chairmen will be put through crash courses by experts in everything from reaching through the troubled broadcast air to reaching over the heads of the majority of the nation's labor leaders and getting at the millions of rank-and-file labor votes.

The school's sophisticated prexy, Robert Humphreys, GOP national committee campaign director, is not conceding any of these labor votes automatically to the Democrats this year.

MR. HUMPHREYS, a wise mahout who skillfully trained the elephant to waltz at a similar school in 1955, knows that it will be more difficult for the party to prance in this election. So the courses are sharper and cut into 11 major hourly presentations.

Slides and words from the experts will occupy the first 20 minutes. Then 40 minutes of questioning — on such matters as how to buy radio and TV time; how to recruit volunteers; how to use opinion polls; how to organize; how to run a telephone campaign; how to design direct mail and Republican literature and how to organize the rural vote.

There is a special place in the school's curriculum for a course in "Reaching Labor's Rank-and-File." This course will get extra time Thursday morning. It will be no cinch.

THE GOP strategists will remember a recent Democratic party dinner to Harry Truman. On the dais were three labor chiefs. Two were in dinner jackets. Walter Reuther came in a regular suit. But it wasn't Reuther's presence on the dais that surprised the GOP. Nor was it the tuxedoed James Carey. It was the third labor chief, William Doherty, president of the National Association of Letter Carriers, AFL-CIO, whose spot on the dais caused most comment.

Doherty, being a leader of civil service workers, seldom has declared himself so openly so soon. He usually plays it more cozily. When he moves, it is a sign that he believes the party to which he's moved will win. The earlier he moves, the more certain he is.

It is this kind of opposition from the national labor leadership, most of which is directed by the 23-man Democratic Labor Advisory Council, which the Republican strategists now will seek to neutralize.

THE REPUBLICANS believe they can reach over the heads of the national labor chiefs. This will be the outline of the campaign school's Thursday morning course given by Edward J. Ray.

Ray's the 36-year-old New York Central Railroad conductor who has for some years now been chairman of the Albany, New York Republican party. Mr. Ray has been GOP candidate for mayor of the New York state capital as well as director of the Young Republican Labor and Industrial Committee of New York.

Mr. Ray, no believer in political miracles, plans to show the 48 state chairmen where the Republican party failed and will tell them that it's just as easy to go out and gather union votes as it is to shake hands in the less populous business field.

Mr. Ray, a devoted member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, will begin his talk to the 48 with slides of labor headquarters which the GOP ran in '56 in Pittsburgh and New York.

He'll show them literature which succeeded and pap which failed. He'll say there are more labor people who did well under the Eisenhower regime than bankers. He'll throw graphs on the screen to show how wages and union membership went up under Ike.

The Republican chiefs will then leave their classes ready for war on their opponents' home grounds, the experts hope.

SUE FOREMAN
Will Teach Course in Bridge

YMCA Will Offer Course in Bridge For Local Students

Beginning June 23 at 7 p.m., the youth department of the Marion YMCA will be offering a new class to high school and college boys and girls, Miss Nell Bailey, women's and girls' secretary at the "Y", said today.

The class will be "Beginners Bridge" and will be taught by Miss Sue Foreman.

Miss Foreman will be a senior next year at Miami University in Oxford where she is active in the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She was graduated from Harding High School in 1955. Sue was secretary of the Co-Ed Council during her high school career at the "Y" and bridge is one of her favorite pastimes.

Miss Foreman said, "I'm glad I learned to play bridge before I went to college because I would have felt out of place had I not been able to play." It is to help remove this concern of young people that the "Y" is offering the course.

The course, which runs for an eight - week period, is held Monday night at 7 and is open to YMCA members only. Registrations are being taken now for the class, by telephone or in person.

YMCA summer memberships may be purchased for $5 and may be applied in the fall on a yearly membership, if so desired.

Jet Collision Fatal To Van Wert Pilot

MOJAVE, Calif. (AP) — A Van Wert, Ohio, Air Force officer was one of two men killed in a mid-air collision of two jets over the Mojave Desert Monday.

The Ohioans, Lt. Col. Boyd L. Grubaugh, 40, chief of flight test operations at Edwards Air Force Base, 60 miles north of Los Angeles, was flying a twin-jet B57 Canberra bomber when it collided with an F100C jet fighter.

Capt. C. D. Crabb, the fighter pilot, landed his badly damaged jet at Victorville AFB. Grubaugh and Capt. Edward C. Gahl, 34, who was flying with him, apparently were killed as they tried to bail out. Their bodies were found five miles from the wreckage.

The bomber crashed and exploded in the desert 22 miles south of here.

The Ohio officer leaves his wife, Isabel, and three children, Kristi, Jack and Jill, who live at Edwards AFB. Gahl, from Oklahoma City, leaves a wife and two sons, also at Edwards AFB.

Power To Replace Vernon in Opener With Yanks

Indians' Top Hitter Idled For Debut by Newcomer

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians open a three - game series with the New York Yankees here tonight and Vic Power is expected to make his debut in a Tribe uniform.

Power, a first baseman, and outfielder Woody Held were obtained by the Indians in a five - player trade with the Kansas City Athletics Sunday, but Held is not expected to arrive in time for tonight's game.

Hitting at .365 Pace

Manager Bobby Bragan plans to use Power at first base and bench Mickey Vernon, the Tribe's leading hitter at .365. The 40-year-old Vernon was purchased originally to give the club bench strength, but has been alternating at first with Preston Ward due to the absence of Vic Wertz, who suffered a broken ankle in spring training.

Ward, who also played third base, went to Kansas City in Sunday's trade along with outfielder Roger Maris and pitcher Dick Tomanek.

Held will be assigned to center field, replacing Maris, but until he arrives, Larry Doby or Gary Geiger will be in center. Doby's injured shoulder showed considerable improvement over the weekend.

Boosts Batting Average

Power, a dangerous hitter, has added 60 points to his batting average in the last three weeks and is currently hitting .311. He has hit safely in his last 22 games.

Billy Harrell, who suffered a pulled muscle at Baltimore a week ago, may be able to return to the lineup tonight and probably will be at third base.

The contest marks the opening of a 14-game home stand for the Indians. Right-hander Ray Narleski will be trying for his ninth victory. He has lost four games. Narleski has won three games in a row, including a 14-1 decision over the Yankees at New York June 8.

Pitching for the Yankees will be southpaw Whitey Ford, whose 7-2 record includes two victories over the Indians. He has won five in a row.

Chicago Cubs' Bonus Rookie Blanks Chisox

CHICAGO (AP) — Dick Ellsworth is a gangling 18-year-old pitcher who graduated from Fresno, Calif., high school last Wednesday. But as far as the Chicago Cubs are concerned, he's a big leaguer.

Ellsworth showed it Monday night when he hurled a 1-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox in an exhibition game in Comiskey Park, home grounds of the Sox.

The left-hander, who admitted he was "scared before the game started," limited the Sox to four singles, walked five and struck out two in the intercity game which attracted 21,804.

Twice he worked his way out of what appeared to be impossible situations and he did it with the poise and coolness of a veteran.

"I never caught a kid who was so young and so sharp," said catcher Cal Neeman, who added "and I guess nobody else ever did either."

Cub Manager Bob Scheffing said Ellsworth would get a chance to start a championship game "and it might be against Cincinnati Friday."

Ellsworth said once the game started he got over his jitters and "I just watched the signs and threw at the glove."

The Sox managed to hit only five balls out of the infield.

Cub pitching coach Freddie Fitzsimmons said he couldn't "remember a pitcher so young do so well. He hasn't got a blazing fast ball but he has good speed, a good serve and changeup and he's cool."

Ellsworth, who received an estimated $50,000 bonus, reported to the Cubs Sunday and worked out in the bull pen for about 10 minutes. He had never seen a major league game until earlier this season when he went to San Francisco to watch the Giants.

Delay Sought For Patterson Title Defense

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The chairman of the State Athletic Commission says he probably will recommend holding a proposed world heavyweight championship fight in Los Angeles in September instead of August.

"If Floyd Patterson has waited this long to defend his championship, it won't hurt him to wait three more weeks," Chairman Dr. Dan O. Kilroy said Monday night.

Co-promoter Al Weill of the match between champion Floyd Patterson and Foy Harris of Cut and Shoot, Tex., has said he intends to go ahead with plans to stage the fight Aug. 4.

The Olympic Auditorium Club of Los Angeles, promoters of a July 24 fight at Wrigley Field between heavyweights Pete Rademacher and Zora Folley, the No. 2 contender, has opposed the championship bout on grounds it would harm the gate of the other match.

Newcombe Ready for Hill Duty, Flies To Join Redlegs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Big league baseball is a bittersweet business. And Don Newcombe was trying mightily today to digest a big bite off the bitter end with grace and good humor.

"I wasn't doing the club any good at all and they had to try to help themselves," the big fellow with the elaborate and graceful windup observed just before taking off for Cincinnati.

That's where he'll be tonight. And for the first time in his long and sometimes brilliant career he'll put on a uniform that the Dodgers didn't pay for.

"It's just one of those things that happen in baseball," Big Newk said of the Sunday night trade that sends him from Los Angeles to Cincinnati in exchange for Steve Bilko, Johnny Klippstein and Charlie Rabe.

"But I'm going to pitch baseball for Cincinnati. I don't think they expect miracles. They must have some confidence in me because they gave up a lot of people to get me."

Newcombe was voted the National League's most valuable player in 1956 after a magnificent 27-7 season.

It was in 1946 that Newcombe broke into organized ball at Nashua, N. H., with another great Negro player, Roy Campanella.

Don was asked whether the loss of Campy — paralyzed this spring in an auto accident — might have contributed to his 0-6 record this year.

"Campy had nothing to do with it," Don said. "I miss Campanella more than anybody because I roomed with him for many years. But the trouble was my shoulder. I pulled a muscle in it at San Francisco at the start of the season. I never did completely recover, but the pain is gone now."

Wilhelm Nine Wins

In a National League baseball game played Monday night on Maynard Field, Wilhelm turned back the Fahey Bank nine by a 5-4 score. Fenix was the winning pitcher. Elwood was tagged with the defeat.

Three Errors Sink Columbus

By The Associated Press

The Richmond Vees had to sweat a bit but they finally broke the five-game losing string that had saddled them for nearly a week in the International League.

A 4-3, 10-inning victory over Buffalo did the job Monday night.

Third-place Rochester made good use of seven unearned runs to top Columbus 9-5 in the only other IL game.

Johnny Jaciuk's looping single chased home the Vees' clincher in the 10th at the expense of losing pitcher Bud Daley.

Bob Chakales went the route for the Richmond victory.

Columbus committed three errors to run it's bobbling to 11 in the past two games. Rochester overcame a 3-0 deficit with six unearned runs in the fourth and got another in the eighth.

Right - hander Charley Naranjo was the victim of the shoddy play while his mates scored one in the first and added a pair in the third.

VFW in 9-8 Win; Clark, Alloy Tie

Two Pony League baseball games were played Monday night, with VFW downing G&G Homes, 9-8, and Clark Metal and Alloy playing to a 7-7 tie before the game was called after 10 innings.

VFW sent Leffler to the hill to register the victory, but G&G gave the eventual winners some anxious moments before succumbing.

G&G took a 4-0 lead in the second frame, with VFW coming back to score a pair in its half of the second. G&G got two more runs in the fifth and two in the sixth, but VFW tallied a pair in the fifth, four in the sixth and a single run in the seventh.

Flesher was charged with the loss.

Shoneks and Robinson were credited with doubles for VFW and G&G respectively.

Clark Metal scored two runs in the second inning, three in the fourth and two in the ninth. The latter got one run in the second, one in the seventh, one in the eighth and two in the ninth.

McGraw was on the hill for Clark Metal; Merchant hurled for Alloy. Clark Metal stickmen hammered 11 hits; Alloy batters were limited to three. The game will be resumed at a later date.

Royals' Stokes Wages Battle Against Illness

CINCINNATI (AP) — Maurice Stokes, star rebounder for the Cincinnati Royals of the NBA, observed his 25th birthday today—still only conscious at times as the result of encephalitis.

This was Stokes' 95th day in St. Elizabeth Hospital in nearby Covington, Ky. He was stricken late in the 1957-58 basketball season.

Royals officials said Stokes is conscious part of the time and is able to recognize friends and shakes his head in answer to questions, but he still can't speak.

In recent days he has been able to eat some light food, but mostly he is fed through the nose.

Stokes, a native of Pittsburgh, was an outstanding performer for the Royals. His biggest value was his ability to grab off rebounds. Physicians have given no indication as to his future recovery prospects.

Marseilles Nine Wins

Marseilles retained its grip on the league lead in Upper Sandusky softball play Tuesday night with its fifth straight win without a setback in loop action.

The Marseilles nine rolled to a 13-2 victory over Wyandot Tractors. Bob Strahm was the winning hurler. On Sunday, the Marseilles team pounded out an 8-0 victory over Fairfield Engineering of Marion behind the no-hit pitching of Sherm McKinniss.

Cardinals Nail Win

Reds Defeated 6-5 In 11-Inning Duel

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals are still doing it the hard way in their scrap for the National League pennant. They've won 12 of their last 19 games and six victories have come in extra innings.

They moved back to .500 and a fourth-place tie by beating Cincinnati 6-5 in 11 innings Monday night, scoring a pair in the ninth to force the overtime. It was the only game scheduled in the majors Monday, and left the Cardinals tied with Pittsburgh, half a game behind the Redlegs.

Stan Musial made a hairline crack in his slump with a single that got the ninth-inning rally under way for a 3-3 tie. Eddie Kasko's double scored two to cap a three-run 11th.

Musial Opens Rally

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell had a one-hit shutout for five innings, then was touched for one earned run in a three-run Redleg sixth. That's the way it stood until the ninth, when the Cards got to southpaw Joe Nuxhall with Musial's first hit in 20 at bats, Ken Boyer's single, a forceout and a walk that loaded the bases. Then Kasko's two runs batted in in the 11th compensated for a two run error in the sixth that for a while appeared to hand the Redlegs the game.

Score 2 on Error

In the sixth, Cincinnati, behind 1-0, filled the bases on a single by George Crowe, a double by Don Hoak and a pass handed to Burgess. Bell hit a slow grounder, but it rolled between Kasko's legs, and Dee Fondy, who came in to run for Crowe, and Hoak, scored to tie the game. The Redlegs made it 3-1 on Alex Grammas' grounder that scored Smoky Burgess with an earned run.

St. Louis scored their first run in the second when Gene Green doubled and scored on a double by Del Ennis.

The Cardinals scored a total of 11 hits off four Redleg pitchers. The loss was charged to Tom Acker who is now 0 for 2. The Redlegs Joe Cunningham delivered a two-run pinch single.

managed seven hits off five St. Louis Pitchers.

The third-place Redlegs slipped to four games behind the league leading Milwaukee Braves.

Strimer Quits Coaching Job At Wesleyan

DELAWARE — Bob Strimer, head basketball coach at Ohio Wesleyan University for the last 12 years, will give up his basketball job to devote full time to his duties as Athletic Director next year.

A successor has not been named to either the head coaching job, or to the assistant and junior varsity coaching position vacated by Brownie Cellar a week ago. Cellar resigned from the Wesleyan staff to accept the job as athletic director and head basketball coach at Olentangy High School.

The assistant coach opening will not be filled until a new head coach has been named.

Strimer was named athletic director at Ohio Wesleyan in June of 1955, upon the retirement of George E. Gauthier, who had held the job for 35 years.

In 12 seasons at OWU his teams won 138 games, lost 136. He won the Ohio Conference championship in 1948-49, and coached one All American selection, Jud Millhon.

The sizeable task of administering Ohio Wesleyan's 12 varsity sport program prompted the basketball resignation. Strimer will continue to assist in football, coaching the backfield under head football coach Glenn Fraser.

Yankees' Skid To Boost Gate In AL's Cities

By The Associated Press

Are those New York Yankees ready to be had? Or is that four-game losing string the champs are dragging just another booby trap ready to explode as they open their second tour of the American League's western division?

Either way, that slump figures to perk up the gate as the Yankees move into Cleveland for a three-game set starting tonight, then move on for a three-game series at Detroit at week's end.

The Indians, riding a four-game streak for only the second time this season, have picked Ray Narleski (8-4) for the opener against Yankee southpaw Whitey Ford (7-2), whom they haven't beaten in more than two years.

The Yankees, still leading the league by seven games although losing nine of their last 15 and playing only .500 ball for 18 June games, carry a rare 19-inning scoreless string into Cleveland after Sunday's double shutout by Detroit that gave the Tigers a four-game sweep.

Narleski hasn't lost since May 25, when Ford beat him 6-1. Whitey has won six straight since an April 30 defeat by Detroit.

The Tigers, just a half-game behind fourth place Cleveland after jumping out of the cellar by winning six of seven under new manager Bill Norman, open their home stand against the slumping Washington Senators. Paul Foytack (5-6) is the Tiger choice against Pete Ramos (4-4).

The bustling Boston Red Sox, clinging to second, open at Chicago with right-hander Dave Sisler (6-2) facing the White Sox' Billy Pierce (4-5). Baltimore, scoreless in 24 innings and in the cellar after Sunday's shutout sweep by Chicago, is at Kansas City with Hec Brown (1-0) opposing Ray Herbert (2-1) of the third place A's.

No games were scheduled in the AL Monday, although the White Sox and Red Sox dropped exhibition contests The White Sox, with ex-Tiger Bob Shaw the loser, were beaten 1-0 by the Chicago Cubs. Boston lost 14-10 at Minneapolis to the American Assn. Millers.

Marion County Bank, Isaly's Take 12-2 Wins

Two games were played in Little League American loop competition Monday night on Scott Field. In one fracas, Isalys clouted Mac's Trading Post by a 12-2 count, while in the other, Marion County Bank walloped the National City Bank nine by an identical 12-2 tally.

Calvary, Forest Lawn, St. Mary Take Church League Victories

Calvary, Forest Lawn and St. Mary nailed wins Monday night in Church League softball action at Garfield Park. Calvary clipped defending champion Greenwood 8-3. Forest Lawn won over Church of the Brethren 6-2 and St. Mary exploded for an 18-2 victory over Trinity Baptist.

St. Mary was blanked in the first inning but shoved nine runs across the plate in the second. Six hits, three bases on balls and an error accounted for the big Irish inning. Two errors, a hit and a walk accounted for one run in the third and St. Mary came up with seven more tallies in the fourth. Four hits, four errors and two walks accounted for that spurt. An error, a hit and a walk brought home the final Irish tally in the fifth inning.

Trinity collected its only two hits off Steve Norris in the fourth inning. The hits by Heisel and Graham along with two errors allowed the two Trinity runs. The game was called after five innings by the 10-run lead rule. Shoemaker led the 13-hit Irish attack with a home run and a single. Larry Leser also banged out a pair of hits.

Forest Lawn pushed over three runs in the third and three in the fifth for its win over Church of the Brethren. One hit and three errors led to the first three-run spurt while three hits and three misplays accounted for the other three.

Church of the Brethren pushed over a run in the opening inning on a walk, two infield outs and a single by Tom Ballenger. It was the only hit allowed by Gary Meister. The Brethren's other tally came in the fifth on a walk and two errors. Swihart and Sisson each had two hits for the winners.

Calvary pushed over three runs in the first inning and coasted to its win behind the three-hit pitching of Bud England. Three hits and a pair of sacrifice flies drove in the first inning runs. The winners added one in the third and two each in the fifth and sixth. A walk, a wild pitch and a fielder's choice gave Greenwood a run in the first inning and the defending champs scored two in the seventh when they bunched all three of their hits.

Crawford Checks Bids For Creek, Bridge Job

BUCYRUS — Crawford County Commissioners and County Engineer Ernest Stetzer today were checking two bids received for work on an abutment and fill at a bridge spanning the Olentangy Creek on Dice Rd., southwest of Galion. A bid of $21,265 was received from Charles Ink of Tiffin, and one for $33,902 from Jack Friend of Bucyrus.

The project includes straightening the creek bed and addition of fill to raise the abutment level at the bridge.

Bone Chip Removed From Leg Of Kentucky Derby Champion

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner Tim Tam underwent an hour and 14 minute operation today to remove a bone chip from his injured right leg.

Surgeons said the operation apparently was successful. A bone chip was removed from the sesamoid, a knobby appendage to what generally is regarded as corresponding to a human ankle.

The Calumet Farm's thoroughbred was injured while trying and failing to win the third jewel in horse racing's triple crown, the Belmont Stakes.

Before the operation, veterinary surgeons said Tim Tam could be as physically able as he was before suffering the injury, a chipped bone.

Trainer Jimmy Jones of Calumet Farm said before the operation that Tim Tam would not race again but would be retired to stud. He said Tim Tam was ruined.

Dr. Charles W. Raker, who perfected today's type of operation little more than a year ago, and his associate in the University of Pennsylvania School of Veterinary Medicine, Dr. Jacques Jenny, said other horses had returned to racing after this type of surgery.

Before the Belmont, the three-year-old had won nine straight races.

Sometime during the race he suffered his injury and finished a poor second to Cavan.

Depot Tour Slated By Manufacturers

Members of the Manufacturers' Council of the Marion Chamber of Commerce will be guests of the Marion Engineer Depot for a tour of the facility and a luncheon meeting on July 14.

An invitation to make the tour was extended to the council members by Col. J. Arthur Hamilton at the regular meeting of the group held Monday noon at Hotel Harding.

In other business, the members heard reports on national affairs and were urged to contact Ohio senators and representatives to express their opinions on various actions by Congress.

Reports on local industrial operations indicated little change in local plant production and employment but some small increases were reported by some plant officials.

Congress failed to appropriate funds to support West Point in 1815. Its superintendent, Maj. Joseph G. Swift, borrowed $65,000 on his personal credit to keep the academy open.

Reserve Unit Gets Special Training

USE OF CARRIER equipment connected with microwave transmission is explained here by V. L. Brady, (kneeling at the left of the control machine) to members of C Company, 307th Signal Construction Battalion of the U.S. Army Reserve here. Mr. Brady is director of plant training at General Telephone Co. of Ohio and is instructing the local signal battalion with the use of telephone company equipment.

The men were among 25 participating in a special training session at General Telephone offices Monday night. Among study areas considered were application of carrier equipment to long distance telephone circuits and other phases of communication transfer.

The local company has made available its facilities for the signal company's advanced training program since 1956. The group meets at the plant periodically and has been granted use of General Telephone facilities, including all types of office equipment and pole line construction.

General Telephone stepped in to offer assistance when the local reserve's signal battalion membership was dwindling back in 1955 due to improper facilities to carry out the training program. At that time the Army was considering moving the Reserve's signal unit out of Marion.

Telephone company guests at the meeting were H. I. Stecher, assistant chief engineer; F. W. Hamper, company vice president; Robert C. Fletcher, director of personnel and Richard Zachman of the public relations department.

In charge of signal school instruction at the telephone company is Ferris H. Pratt, general plant superintendent.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Gains by selected industrials pushed the stock market ahead slightly early this afternoon.

The advance nudged the market further along into new high ground for the year and brought the average back to where it was early last September.

Leading stocks rose from fractions to well over a point. There were also small losses or unchanged prices. Some coppers went ahead. Most major steelmakers, as well as motors and some chemicals advanced. Oils, rails, rubbers and tobaccos were mixed.

U. S. Tobacco showed a loss of more than a point before it was trimmed slightly.

Chrysler advanced well over a point. General Motors and Ford rose fractionally.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 10 cents to $175.00 with the industrials up 50 cents and both the rails and utilities unchanged.

U. S. government bonds were off in brisk transactions over the counter.

Attorney on Trial

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Testimony was set to begin today before a Common Pleas Court jury in the trial of Vincent P. Serman, an attorney charged with embezzlement stemming from a $250,000 auto insurance claims fraud.

Independence, Mo., hometown of President Harry S. Truman, was the starting point of the old Santa Fe Trail in 1831.

Grandmothers Bolt at Routine

AKRON, O. (AP) — Has your grandmother joined a harmonica band? Are there tinted threads among the grey? Is grannie bowling too frequently to crochet?

More power to her, says Mrs. Sylvia Stalcup of Akron, national president of the Grandmothers' Club. After 20,000 miles of traveling as the nation's No. 1 official grandma, Mrs. Stalcup reports modern conveniences have gotten grannie out of the house and into all kinds of activities.

"Today's grandmother is adventurous enough to try the chemise, vain enough to watch her figure, chic enough to tint her hair if she feels like it, and agile enough to wear 3-inch heels."

As for the harmonica band, Mrs. Stalcup says 18 grandmothers in Akron play in them. Bowling is also popular with the nation's grandmothers, she says.

But the nation's No. 1 grannie is all for banishing the grandmother who tries to be a matriarch.

"The grandmother should never, never try to dictate to the younger members of her family. She can give advice, but only when it's asked for."

Mrs. Stalcup offers some other "don'ts" for grandma: Don't babysit too much, don't play favorites among your grandchildren, and do not live with your children if you can help it.

There's a lot to look forward to when you become a grandmother, she says.

Russians' Satellite Seen By Police Officers Here

Marion area residents who were awake and outside at 4:06 a.m. today had an opportunity to see the Russian's Sputnik III— as it passed over the area.

At least two persons actually did see the satellite as it sped through the sky from south to north, Police Inspector Clyde Hardin reported today.

He said that Police Capt. Z. G. McClenathan spotted the satellite first while he was cruising in the vicinity of the Harding Memorial and radioed his observations to Patrolman Lew Shadaker in the police dispatcher's office in City Hall. Patrolman Shadaker dashed out the rear door of the building in time to glimpse the Russian moon as it sailed out of sight toward the north, he reported.

Both Capt. McClenathan and Patrolman Shadaker reported the satellite appeared to blink as it sped across the sky, the inspector said.

Boy Fatally Hurt
